Standard terms

Article 1 (Terminology)

Terminology used under this Agreement are defined as follows:

the Digital Content

Any digital data and its part(s) as described in the Digital Content to be licensed under the terms for particular cases.

the User(s)

Any person, who can be an individual or a legal entity, who has obtained the Digital Content lawfully by purchase or download from the Licensor(s) or a third party designated by the Licensor(s).

Non-profit-seeking with charges

Non-profit-seeking with charges refers to the act of receiving consideration (regardless of the form, name, or recipient thereof; the same applies below) with a view to recovering the cost of raw materials and necessary expenses, without the purpose of generating profit. Where profit is generated from the consideration, the transaction is deemed to be profit-seeking; but where there is no obvious gain to the seller in a transaction, marginal profit is permitted.

Profit-seeking

Profit-seeking refers to an act(s) that is not non-profit-seeking compensation and is intended for commercial purposes or to receive compensation.

Avatar

Images, icons, 3D model data, etc, that are used to indicate the existence of something.

Social communication platform

A service that enables one-way or two-way online communication with other parties.

Online gaming platform

Any service that provides operating environments for online game(s) or the game in itself, that needs to operate online.

Adjustment

Corrections to be made within the minimum necessary to ensure proper use of the Digital Content. This includes minor modifications to parameters such as weights and rigs, etc.

Modification

Any modification of the Digital Content in whole or in part beyond the scope of the Adjustment to make it different from the Digital Content.

Part(s)

Components of the Digital Content, materials and other digital content that derive from break-down of this digital content, including its parameters, such as weights and rigs, etc.

Assignment of Rights and Obligations, etc.

This refers to the assignment or letting of rights and obligations to third parties, or asking third parties to take security of, or causing third parties to undertake all or part of the rights and obligations.

Article 2 (Consent to Use)

1. The Licensor(s) grants a non-exclusive, worldwide license to use the Digital Content to the User(s) in accordance with terms and conditions under this Agreement for a period and/or amended period stipulated in the terms for particular cases. However, where the User(s) is a minor or has limited mental capacity or legally incompetent, the User(s) must obtain consent from custodians or persons with parental authority in advance.
2. Where there is any inconsistencies or conflicts between the provisions of the terms for particular cases and the standard terms, the terms for particular cases shall supersede the Standard terms. The special note shall also supersede the other provisions under this Agreement.
3. The User(s) may copy the Digital Content for use within the scope of this License.
4. Permission to use the Digital Content includes an extended sub-license, which covers the use of the Digital Content on other third-party services or in other apps, by authorising these third-party services or apps to use the Digital Content, so that the scope of the License covers the minimum necessity to fulfill the purpose of licensing to use the Digital Content on the third-party services. This means, for example, where the User(s) uploads the Digital Content to the third-party service or apps, the third-party operator is granted an extended sub-license to use, copy, distribute, etc, for the purpose of providing its service to the User(s). However, the sub-license will not extend to circumstances where, having reasonably considered common sense, the particular system's features or operations, or the terms of use for the system are damaging or unjust to the Licensor(s); or the terms of use for the system would cause loss(es) to the Licensor(s) or put the Licensor(s) at a disadvantage.
5. Where explicitly authorized under the terms for particular cases, the User(s) may instruct a third party to adjust or modify the Digital Content. In this case, the User(s) may request the relevant Consignee(s) (the "Consignee(s)") to follow the User(s)'s instructions. The User(s) is obliged to prohibit the use of the Digital Content for any purpose other than such kind of adjustment or modification based on the Digital Content, and the User(s) will be jointly and severally liable to the Licensor(s) together with the consignee(s), for the consequences of conducting such kind of adjustment or modification.
6. Any use of the Data in a manner not described in this Agreement requires the explicit permission of the Licensor(s) in advance.

Article 3 (Disclaimer)

The Digital Content is provided in its present state. The Licensor(s) does not guarantee the Digital Content is free from infringement of third party rights, absence of defects and all liabilities that may arise in legal, cultural and other business practice in the process of use; nor does the Licensor(s) guarantee the Digital Content is suitable for any particular purpose(s). The User(s) shall be responsible for the use of the digital and the Licensor(s) bears no liability in the course of using the Digital Content. The Licensor(s) shall not be liable for any damage caused by the use or inability to use the Digital Content. Where the Licensor(s) are held liable for the loss, under the circumstance where there is no intentional wrongs or grossly negligence on the part of Licensor(s), or where the Licensor(s)' act is not prohibited by law, the compensation shall not exceed the price of the Digital Content, and shall ONLY be applied to any direct damage caused in the case.

Article 4 (Ownership of rights, Handling of Open Source Software, etc.)

1. The Intellectual property rights subsist in the Digital Content and its part(s) (in whole or in part, regardless of form), which includes copyrights, belongs to the Licensor(s) and/or third parties. All rights are reserved by the Licensor(s) or third parties, unless otherwise specified or granted to the User(s) under this Agreement.
2. The Digital Content may contain third-party toolkit/plugin/program/materials and/or open source toolkit/plugin/program/materials. In such a case, the License is granted in accordance with the terms and conditions under the respective Third-party or Open Source license(s) (hereinafter referred to as the Third-party License(s)). This Agreement does not limit the rights enjoyed by the User(s) under the Third-party License(s), nor does this Agreement confer any other rights. Where there is any inconsistencies or conflict between this Agreement and the Third-party License(s), the latter shall prevail.

Article 5 (Prohibited Acts and Termination of license)

1. The User(s) shall not use the Digital Content in a way that may bring:

Article 6 (Liability and Dispute Resolution)

1. If the User(s) causes damage to the Licensor(s) or any third party by violating this Agreement, the User(s) shall be liable to all direct and indirect damages. The User(s) shall assume responsibility and expense in order to minimize such damages; besides, the User(s) shall follow the Licensor(s)'s instructions on the measures to be taken. If the Licensor(s) is to provide instructions on the measures, the User(s) shall comply with the instructions by the Licensor(s).
2. If a dispute arises between the Licensor(s) and a third party due to a violation of this Agreement by the User(s), the User(s) shall be responsible for taking all necessary measures to resolve the dispute, and bear all expense, if any. If the Licensor(s)'s instructions are given, the User(s) shall follow those instructions.

Article 7 (Precaution against Anti-Social Forces)

1. The User(s) (in the case of a legal entity, with respect to its directors and staff members) MUST NOT be a member of Anti-Social Forces (member of or affiliated to gangs, gangsters, mafia, triad, or any kind of organized crime groups, including those who has been a member or has had affiliation within 5 years, or any other kind of equivalent), and the User(s) shall not involve in any illegal activities such as violence, frauds or intimidation, or crimes against business sustainability. The User(s) guarantees they do not and will not be involved in these activities.
2. The User(s) shall not provide the Digital Content or its part(s) (including modified versions) to Anti-Social Forces, or instruct Anti-Social Forces to adjust or modify the Digital Content or its part(s).
3. Where the User(s) breaches any provisions in this article, the Licensor(s) may terminate this Agreement without prior notice. Under such circumstances, the Licensor(s) shall not compensate or indemnify the User(s) in any way. The User(s) will be required to compensate for any damages caused to the Licensor(s).

2. The License is originally made in Japanese. The translation of this Agreement, if any, is for REFERENCE ONLY and is not intended to be legally binding to the User(s) or the Licensor(s). However, where the terms for particular cases and any instructions of a particular license else state, are made and given in a language other than Japanese ONLY, the User(s) shall follow the terms for particular cases and any instructions given in such cases.
